Provost Ellenberg started the meeting with introductions from members of the Intellectual Property work group outlining the expectations for the group and reaffirming the goal that the group is to make recommendations to the existing policy. He also mentioned that there is a need to update the policy which is the driving factor for the creation of this committee. Provost Ellenberg briefly mentioned that a national expert will be coming to the University of West Florida to assist the committee members with their understanding on Intellectual Property.

After Provost Ellenberg's introduction and summation of expectations, Vice Provost McCorkle further discussed the plan for the Intellectual Property work group including the need for a co-chair and a plan for future meetings. Vice Provost McCorkle opened up the floor for committee members to discuss what they want to discuss during the committee meetings, what issues they currently have with Intellectual Property, and what items of discussion will be beneficial to the group.

Meeting Concluded: 4:40 p.m.
